Eleven men dead is the toll of the fighting in Belfast August 29. In addition to the six men killed during the height of the battle, five of the wounded died. About forty persons were wounded and some of them will undoubtedly die.

When the rioting in Belfast, Ireland, was at its worst August 29th, women could be seen clad in their night attire, rushing from their homes, attempting to lead their families from the danger zone. Some of them were wounded by stray shots.

The condition of Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, Ireland, who is in British jail on a hunger strike, is officially stated to be unchanged. He made this statement: "I am convinced I will not be released; it will be better for my country if I am not."

John Parmentier, administrator of the French ministry of finance, who is in New York city negotiating with United States bankers for payment of the French loan of $250,000 from the United States, has arranged for a loan of one hundred and fifty million dollars with American banks, Paris newspapers report.

No woman will be permitted to enter church unless dressed "in Christian modesty," says a notice circulated in the diocese of Gaudix, Spain, by authority of the bishop. Any woman who displays herself chest or legs conspicuously will be barred from holy communion and absolution.

Louis Berliet, the first French aviator to cross the English channel, has been ordered by the French courts to pay immediately five million francs into the French treasury. The fine is imposed for profiteering and many other cases will be handled similarly, and some may receive jail sentences.

The island of Malta, where St. Paul labored for some months, suffered an earthquake shock of considerable force recently. The population was thrown into a panic and property was considerably damaged.

Pope Benedict has been snapped by the movies, to the consternation and amazement of his dignified cardinalate. The United States Knights of Columbus paid him a visit and took movie men along, and prevailed upon the pope to pose for them. The pope was in high spirits and said "Let the Americans have what they want." Visitors said they would have taken what they wanted anyhow.

A Mexican treasury statement says Mexico will export this year more petroleum than all other countries combined, estimated at one hundred and forty million barrels.

The Polish peace delegates while on their way to Minsk to confer with the representatives of Soviet Russia were pleasantly received after crossing the Russian lines. The Poles were escorted along the highway in Soviet automobiles of United States make, containing fantastically garbed guards.

A wireless message from Minsk says that members of the Polish peace delegation and those who accompanied it to the conference with the Soviet emissaries are becoming ill because of the unsanitary conditions under which they are compelled to exist.

French farmers are becoming sleight of hand artists at Paris believe. Every day 335,000 nickels are minted and vanish in thin air. As soon as a Frenchman lays his hand on metal money it is out of circulation for good.

The situation in Korea is becoming more serious. The conditions are reported to have been aggravated by organization of the activities of the Korean nationalists, especially in Manchuria.

The delegation of American congressmen touring the Far East were met and entertained by a Japanese delegation in Korea.

Washington—

Attention of the department of justice, it is learned at Washington, has been informally called to threats of Irish women sympathizers to inspire strikes in this country to prevent the movement of British goods. Leaders of the women declare they had caused the strike of longshoremen, who had refused to handle British shipping at New York and they have planned, they say, to organize a complete boycott against British goods as a protest against the imprisonment of Lord Mayor McSwiney of Cork, who is dying on a hunger strike.

A battalion of United States infantry numbering between four hundred and five hundred, under command of Colonel Burkhardt, have arrived at Williamson, W. Va., from Camp Sherman, Ohio. A detachment of soldiers will be stationed at each mine in the strike zone from Kernit east to Delport, a distance of fifty miles, it is announced.

Cost of producing refined sugar doubled between 1914 and 1919, the United States tariff commission reports. The labor cost amounted to 976 per pound.

Prices of coal have dropped in Baltimore, where federal agents started to gathering evidence against an alleged combination of dealers who were declared to have boosted prices through repeated resales.

Announcement that the gunboat, Sacramento had been ordered to La Ceiba, Honduras, ready to protect American interests. If necessary revealed that officials at Washington have been watching with growing concern revolutionary movements in process of development in several Central American countries.

On September 1 the railroads of the country began operating on their own resources after having cost the government approximately one hundred million dollars monthly for the six months in which their earnings were guaranteed by the transportation act. The carriers will be allowed further aid only through loans from the re-

Combined federal and state expenditures for road building have reached a total of two hundred and fifty million dollars during the current fiscal year, says the chief of the bureau of public roads.

General accord with the views of the United States as to Russia has now been expressed by all of the allied powers except two—Great Britain and Japan. A formal preliminary statement of Italy's concurrence, transmitted through the counselor of the Italian embassy, has been received, while similar assurances have reached the state department from Poland.

Plans of 142 railroads to spend approximately one billion dollars on improvements and betterments have been disclosed in a report submitted to the interstate commerce commission by the bureau of railway economics.

Candy has not taken the place of alcohol for men who formerly indulged in beverages now under the prohibition ban, according to the secretary of the National Confectioners' association. He places candy fifth in the list.

Governor Roberts of Tennessee certified by registered mail to Secretary of State Colby Tennessee's ratification of the woman suffrage amendment after receiving from Attorney General Frank M. Thompson an opinion that a writ of certiorari and supersedeas issued by Chief Justice D. L. Lansden of the state supreme court in effect set aside an order temporarily restraining the governor from taking such action. This announcement fell like a bombshell on the ears of the anti-suffragists.

Domestic—

John Leary, president of the Master Horse Shoers' association, at New Orleans, announces that within two years all of the blacksmiths who shoe horses will be dead and the trade lost, since all men now engaged in that trade are over forty years of age and there are no apprentices.

Capt. J. C. D. Porter and D. A. Newman, both of Oakland, were killed when the United States destroyer Kennedy backed out of its moorings at San Francisco. The launch was destroyed. The two men who were on the launch were killed by the destroyer's propeller.

News of the slaying of two negroes, Butcher Higgins and Dan Calcutt, near Corinth, Miss., because of their alleged attack upon James Whitehurst, guard at a chain gang, has been received at Jackson, Miss. A mob of 1,700 masked men forced the keeper of the Alcorn county jail to turn over keys, took the negroes out from their cells and to a place two miles from Corinth and hanged them to a telephone pole.

Shot through the abdomen twice, Nelson Sauls of Eufaula, Ala., died. A brother-in-law, Homer Stanley, of Girard, Ala., is charged with the shooting. He made his escape. Sauls was trying to make peace between his wife and Mrs. Stanley over a dispute between children of the two families.

Forty-two steamship companies and freight brokers, including virtually all the big trans-Atlantic lines, were indicted by the federal grand jury in New York on charges of conspiracy and restraint of trade in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

MYSTERIES OF UNREST.

"I wonder why the people in this establishment take so little pains to be agreeable to me," said the old customer. "I have been trading here for years."

"Maybe that's the reason," replied the unfeeling one. "Our bosses aren't so very popular around here and you are evidently regarded as a friend of theirs."

A Sentiment Disapproved. "I noted," said Senator Sorghum, "that when my political rival stepped on the platform you struck up 'See the Conquering Hero Comes.'"

"Certainly," replied the leader of the band.

"Well, my friend, what I want to say is that while you may be a fine musician, you're a poor prophet."

A Positive Essential. "Henrietta has decided to give up our flat immediately," said Mr. Meekton.

"Aren't you comfortable?"

"Not any more. Henrietta thinks we ought to make a showing in politics and our apartment hasn't even a fire-escape landing, much less a front porch."

Scientific Suggestion. "There was only one way the astronomer's wife could get him down from his observatory to look at the bruise on his boy's face."

"How was that?"

"She told him to come quick and take an observation of a spot on the sun."

QUALIFIED. Parent—Can you support my daughter in the way to which she has been accustomed?

Suitor—Yes, indeed, I live in the biggest and muddiest pond around here.

A Tip to Market Tips. Advice, though it is given free, may to its taker cost a lot.

Her Style. "What sort of a car is that flying Miss Flirty going to get?"

"I don't know, but the most fitting kind for her would be a runabout."

Realistic. "Why did you lay the action in your first act in a dental parlor?"

"Because I wanted the scene to have some drawing power."

Not a Healthy Place. "Better not try any business in this town," said the first highwayman.

"Why not? The pickin' is good," said the second.

"I know; but they've got a judge here who's actually passin' out 15-year stretches."

The Leader. Willie—Mamma, who is that man with long hair who is waving a stick in front of all those fiddlers?

Mamma—He is the conductor, Willie.

Willie—Oh, is he? Well, where do they keep the motorman?

The One Obstacle. "There is only one good reason that I can see why a woman should not have a say in everything."

"What is that?"

"If she's dumb."

His Fate. "There is no harmony in that man's life."

"Is his family quarrelsome?"

"No; he gives singing lessons."

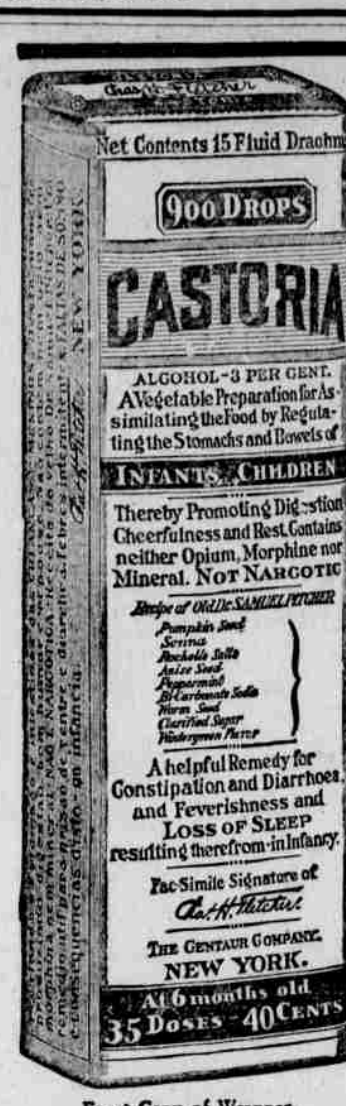

His Mind Still at the Office. Mrs. De LaSalle (on a pleasure trip with her broker husband) points to the glowing sun slowly setting behind the mountain range—See how it's sinking lower and lower—

He—Yes, soon it will be below par.

Her Secret. Patience—Peggy can't keep a secret.

Patience—Indeed, she can. "Why do you say she can?"

"Because I asked her how old she was and she wouldn't tell me."

SOMETHING LIKE A BUGLER!

Player Who Could Produce an Effect Like That Described Surely Was a Wonder.

Two darkies in a negro regiment were boasting about their company buglers.

"Glong wid you, boy," said one; "you ain't got no buglers. We is got the boogler, and when 'at boy wraps his lip around that horn and blows pay-call it sound jes' like that um Boston Symphony band playin' 'The Rosary.'"

"Yeh, I hear you," replied the other. "Talk up, boy; talk up. Yo' is wadin' deep into trouble."

"An' when he sounds 'at tapoo the angle fribblet himself is lendin' a ear, boy. A ear is what I say."

"Well, if yo' is yearnin' fo' food yo' wants a boogler with an hypnotic note like we is got. Boy, when Ah hears ole Custard-Mouth Jones discharge his blast, Ah looks at mah beans and Ah says, 'Strawberries, be haves yo'selves! Yo' is crowdin' the whip cream out o' mah dish.'"—Gold Chevrone.

Covered With Boils

Interesting Case of a Georgia Man, Who Says He Found Relief by Taking Ziron.

B OILS, pimples, sores, and other skin troubles usually denote impure blood. People with red, iron-saturated blood generally have clear, healthy skin, good complexions, rosy cheeks, and feel as well as they look.

If your blood is bad, weak in iron, the experience of this Whitfield County, Georgia, man should interest you. Mr. Frank Armstrong writes from Varnell Station:

"I wish to say that I have taken Ziron Iron Tonic, and never have regretted one cent of the money that I spent for it. Ziron certainly helped me a lot."

"When I began taking Ziron, I was covered with blood boils, and felt so bad and tired all the time. It was all I could do to go. Now I feel good, and am also well of the boils, and Ziron is what did the work."

How about your blood? Does it lack iron? If so, take Ziron Iron Tonic. It will put iron into your blood, help tone up your nerves, and help build up your system.

Buy a bottle of Ziron, today. At your druggist's.

It doesn't pay to borrow trouble, even on a friend's account.

Constitution generally indicates disordered stomach, liver and bowels. Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills restore regularity without gripping.—Adv.

OF SAME ORIGIN AS COAL

Wood Believed to Be Basis of Jet, Substance Long Used for Various Ornaments.

Jet is a sort of lignite or anthracite, often cut and polished, which has the peculiarities in weight and texture of the hardest kind of anthracite. It has been used in Britain since before historic times, and was common in the bronze age, from which times have come jet beads, buttons, rings, armlets and other ornaments.

Julius Caesar alludes to the abundance of jet in Britain, and jet ornaments are found with Roman relics in them. The monks used jet for rosary beads at Whitby Abbey, and at Whitby, where it was found in the greatest abundance. It occurs in irregular masses in hard shale known as jet rock.

Often microscopic examination discloses coniferous wood in the composition of jet. It is probable that jet was developed when masses of wood drifted down a river, rotted or became water logged and sank out at sea, becoming gradually buried in a deposit of fine mud which hardened eventually into shale. Sometimes drops of bitumin are found in jet cavities, which seems to confirm the suspicion of its wood origin.—Detroit News
